The ornamental features of the pampas alone are known here, says Mrs. Harriet W. R. Strong, in the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times. I discovered that the plumes could not be destroyed in water. Hence, as a product for bank note paper they are valuable. Again, the fiber will make rope. This was brought out in Jackson Park through one of the judges of awards, who informed me that at the present time the strongest rope in the world is being made in South America, where also they have tested the paper-making qualities of the plumes. They also weave a cloth with which they make dresses for their women.

> A peculiar solution of England's problem in India may evolve before many years, predicts the New York Independent. Attention was so centered upon the labor troubles that the close of the San Francisco Midwinter Fair on the Fourth of July passed almost unnoticed. Yet the event was worthy of comment. The Fair, despite the hard times and the interminable industrial difficulties, was a remarkable success. There were more than 2,000,000 paid admissions, which is a most gratifying showing considering that the Pacific coast contributed practically all the attendants. The managers of the Exposition and the people of San Francisco deserve the highest credit for their pluck and enterprise in carrying the Fair to a successful concluthem.

The United States Court of Cheyonne has just rendered a decision of great interest to insurers, as it invaldates the clause found in most polinies, that no agent has authority to alter the clauses printed on a policy. It appears that a Mr. Henderson went to an agent there and applied for an insurance on his life, stating that he was afraid of being shot by an enemy, who, he had reason to believe, was looking for him. The agent told him he would give him a policy covering his case, and Henderson paid him the premium. Shortly afterward he was killed by the enemy, as he had anticipated, and the company refused to pletely, pay the insurance to the widow, as the policy contained a clause expressly exempting the company in case death resulted from the doings of some party with declared hostile intent. The court says that the clause does not count, and that the money must be of the engagements between Chinese and Japanese squadrons. The result confirmed their estimate of the superiority of the Jap e navy. According to the despatch, the hinese squadron was much stronger than upan's fleet, in that it included a large Japan's battle-ship which, according to noval standards, should have been able single-tranded to vanquish the three Japanese crossers. The Tsao Klan, reported captured by the Japanese, is a torpedo cruiser of 1350 tons or about 400 tons smaller than our Yorktown. She was built in England in 1881, is a 17-knot vessel, and is armed with two eight-inch Armstrong and four flye-inch rifles. The Omen Yuen, which escaped from the Japanese fleet, is a magnifice at and formidable battleship, having in her armament four 12-inch Krupp guns and two six-inch rifles. She is very similar in appearance to the Maine, which she exceeds in tonnage. If handled with even ordinary skill and cour-

Four Fishermen Picked up.

The steamer Siberian, which arrived recent ly at Halifax, N. S., from Newfoundland, brought four fishermen who lost their vessel in a fog. Two belonged to the Gloucester schooner Landseer, and the others to the Gloucester schooner David A. Storey, James St. John and Emanuel Greer were from the first named, and they underwent terrible sufferings from hunger and thirst, being in a dory on the Grand Banks from the 11th to the 18th inst, when they reached Renews, half dead. Leeon Magnire and Celestine Couchers were three days and nights without food or water when rescued and also suffered severely. They were sent to Halifax by the American consul at St. John's, from which place they were sent to Boston.

BOSTON WHOLESALE MARKETS.

(To make the following quotations of value to buyer and seller alike, it will be necessary to carefully note the prefatory remarks which precede all articles quoted. In a market of this character it is impossible to give prices for every day of the week, but noting the general tendency of trade, those given will be found sufficiently close to enable dealers to base their transactions thereon.)

The depressing weather of last week still continues and with its usual effect upon prices. Until the settlement of the tariff question one way or the other there seems to be no great hope for improvement in the general market. Owing to the small catch of mackere'l values have remained quite firm in that line, although the fish market generally has remained quiet. Fresh fish has been in good supply except haddock, which was a little higher at the close. Shell fish remain quiet, though clams are firm and going well. Flour is quiet with little demand. Corn is somewhat finer with light offerings. Oats are firmer with new crop offered much below price of old. A moderate butter business has been done and choese holds steady. Eggs are selling quietly with steady market. Beans are steady, sugar remains unchanged. Fresh beef is quiet and unchanged. Choice

Spoken by the Captain of a Norwegian Sealer Near Amsterdam Island. Carl Siewers, the Norwegian Arctic enthusiast, has just received a telegram from the captain of the Ering, a Norwegian sealer, which arrived recently at the island of Tromsoe, Finmark, Norway. Near Amsterdam Island, in latitude84n, and 0 long, the Erling spoke the Ragnvald Jari, conveying the Wellman expedition to the edge of the pack ce. The Ragnvald Jarl, in reply to siguals ice. The Hagnvaid Jarl, in reply to signals, asked to be reported at the nearest place that the Erling touched at, saying that all were well on board and full of hope. The captain of the Erling also telegraped that the Ragnvaid Jarl has been beset by pack ice, delaying her progress considerably. But when spoken Wellman and his party were free of it and they should now be well on their way to the North Pole.
